

Terms and Conditions

In force as of 23.03.2026

Fiber One Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the “Company” or “Fiber One”) owns and manages at www.digi.uk (“Website”) a website through which information is presented about the services and products provided by the Company as well as a series of various information aimed at promoting the Company, its services and products or for the purpose of fulfilling certain legal provisions. Website users can order certain services and products offered by the Company through the website.

The use of the website implies the unconditional acceptance of the terms and conditions. The services provided through the Website are addressed to persons over 18 years of age.

The Website is exclusively managed by Fiber One Ltd..

To use the Website, you must read and accept the Terms and Conditions in their entirety.

Continuing to visit the website implies that you agree to the Terms and Conditions.

Fiber One reserves the right to change, correct, modify, add and/or withdraw the Terms and Conditions in part or in whole. The User confirms that he has read and accepted these Terms and Conditions in their entirety. If you do not accept the present Terms and Conditions, please do not use this website.

The entire content of this website (images, text, graphics, symbols, trademarks, logos, web graphics, scripts, programs and databases) is the exclusive property of Fiber One Ltd. and is protected by copyright law (UK copyright protection for websites is governed primarily by the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 (CDPA). The use of any of the elements listed above without obtaining prior consent from the rights holders is punishable under applicable law.

Website content www.digi.uk may not be reproduced, modified, transferred, distributed, republished, copied or transmitted in any form, including electronic form without the prior written permission of Fiber One Ltd.

Liability

Fiber One Ltd. is in no way liable for losses (direct or indirect), loss of business opportunities or opportunities or for unearned profits, by the user or by third parties with whom the user is in any legal relationship, as a result of the non-functioning or improper functioning of the website or websites linked to it. The respective links represent a facility granted to users, Fiber One Ltd.

not having any control over the functionality of the respective sites, over the content, services and products presented on those sites.

Personal data protection

Information regarding the processing of personal data can be found here.

Other Provisions

The provision by any client of false, incomplete information, the omission to provide the necessary information (including, but not limited to, presenting under a false identity, attributing such an identity to another person, by fraudulent use of a document of any type, using the real identity of another person, to induce or maintain in Fiber One Ltd., in order to produce a legal consequence) in any communication with Fiber One Ltd., regardless of the method used (e.g.: telephone, written, electronic) represents the exclusive responsibility of the respective person and may incur his liability, according to the law.

In such cases, Fiber One Ltd. is exempted from liability in this regard, including for the operations undertaken by Fiber One Ltd. based on such false, incomplete information or in the absence of the necessary information.

Governing Law

These Terms and Conditions are governed by English law. Any disputes arising out of the use of this Website shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English courts.

The Website is intended exclusively for users in the United Kingdom.

Contact

For any information regarding the Website, users may contact the Company by:

- e-mail: office@digi.uk

- phone: 02071757511

- letter sent to the postal address: Fiber One Ltd, Unit 6-7, Harrier Court, Woodside Road, Luton, LU14DQ, United Kingdom.